CHIEF FILES FIRE REPORT

McFarland Points to Need of Repairs in Communication to Council.

A depreciation of $17,171 in the value of equipment, which, he declared, has reduced the efficiency of the department, was a highlight in the annual report of Fire Chief T. J. McFarland, submitted to city council at its meeting last night.

A large share of the depreciation, the chief points out in his report, is in the fire alarm equipment, according to the chief, only $10.40 was spent in this important part of the fire fighting equipment last year.

Insurance that just as soon as money is available steps would be taken immediately to make the necessary repairs and additions to the fire department equipment, was given by Councilman W. G. Slack, chairman of the finance committee.

The total valuation of the department's property is given in the report as $89,655 or $17,171 less than last year.

The chief took advantage of the opportunity to commend manufacturers of the fire alarm equipment during the last year. A reduction of $52,488.88 in fire losses during the year was reported by the chief.

Makes You Lose Unhealthy Fat

Miss Ethel Smith of Norwich, Conn., writes: "I lost 16 lbs. with one bottle of Kruschen. Being on my feet again was a relief. I was taking Kruschen 10 times a day, but it was not until I took off fat-take one half teaspoonful of Kruschen Salts in a glass of hot water in the morning before I lost my fat. That is, I lost 16 lbs. in 4 weeks, but a few cents—get it at Henny & Cooper's or any drugstore in America. If this bottle fails to convince you, this is the SAFE and harmless way to lose fat—your money gladly returned.

Don't accept anything but Kruschen because you must reduce safely.—Adv.

The total for the year being $89,655. The department responded to 283 calls during 1931, a reduction of 29 under that of 1930. The report also shows that 124 of the calls were for residence fires and 20 were for fires in automobiles.

An outstanding feature of the report dealt with the increase in the number of false alarms. The department having responded to 29 such alarms during the year, the largest number for many years.

The need of small equipment such as smoke masks, canvas covers and lanterns is emphasized by the chief in his report. He also points out that the tires now being used on some of the trucks are six years old and have become a hazard.

He also urges the complete overhauling of the machines which he said are 17 years old and badly in need of new parts.

"The whole hog or none" utilities are going to pay their share of the state government cost if I ever become governor," Ross declared.

Attacks Welfare Work
He attacked prevailing methods of welfare work, calling "old maid investigators" who ask impertinent and embarrassing questions instead of giving relief.

"What the common people want is more work and less worry; more beer and less holiness; more horse sense and less horse feeling; a lot of sensible letting alone by the narrow minded cranks; their own private affairs and an open season on stuffed shirt bachelors," he said.

Ross said he is making his campaign single-handed. He asked for contributions from those in the audience to finance his traveling costs, declaring that he was obligated to place a $100 mortgage on his automobile to raise sufficient funds to start his campaign.

OFFICIALS TO STUDY CAUSE OF ACCIDENT

Erie and Big Four Representatives Visit Scene of Derailment.

With the cause of the Big Four derailment near Caladonia early Friday morning still undetermined, a party of Big Four and Erie railroad officials from Marion and Bellefontaine left this afternoon to visit the scene of the wreck.

Among the officials were T. J. Hayes of Bellefontaine, superintendent of the Cleveland Indianapolis division of the Big Four and H. E. Wilson of Marion, superintendent of the Kent division of the Erie.

Many theories have been offered as to the cause of the derailment in which 28 loaded freight cars left the track, tying up traffic and causing considerable loss, but as yet none has been accepted. Repairs have been completed at the wreck scene and traffic has been resumed on full schedule.

S. L. Howells of Cleveland, traveling passenger agent of the Northwestern railway, was in Marion yesterday.

Frank Foster, rate clerk in the Marion office of the Pennsylvania railroad, returned this morning from a business trip to Chicago, where he was called by Raymond Swank, general superintendent. A number of agents from stations west of Pittsburgh also were present.

E. R. Williams of Columbus, traveling car agent of the Chesapeake & Ohio railway, was a Marion visitor yesterday.

C. M. Jones of Columbus, traveling auditor of the C. & O., was in Marion yesterday and today.

Such toy automobiles will not be offered on this market, but will produce great results in England, unless the British refuse to let an American make money on any terms.

TO COMFORT those that crowd around the crying towel, it may be mentioned that the income of the United States in 1930, latest year of complete reports, was seventy-one thousand million dollars, equivalent to sixty-six dollars for every family in the country if the money were equally divided.

If your Communist friend says it should be equally divided, tell him that it should, of course, but it cannot be done. If it were done, the total would melt rapidly, because those that create wealth would lose interest. If an African savage kills a man-eating lion, you must give him more fat wives than he needs, or he will kill no more man-eaters.

If a civilized American financial savage creates new industries and new wealth, you must give him more fat millions than he needs, or he will stop creating wealth.

Government estimates the total national wealth of the United States at $220,700,000,000, or $10,961 for each family. It is a hidden loss underestimates, for there is more money than this in the ground beneath our feet and the Mississippi and ten times as much will be produced by organizing and inventing American brains in the next hundred years.

ESCAPES SERIOUS INJURY IN CRASH

Car Driven by Jack Weil, 19, Crashes into Tree on Center Street.

Jack Weil, 19, of 181 Homer street escaped serious injury in an accident late yesterday afternoon that partially wrecked the car he was driving.

Suffering from shock this morning, he was unable to recall clearly details of the accident that sent the car careening across the street and into a large tree in front of the G. A. Cheney home at 757 east Center street.

Weil said he believed a front tire blew out, causing him to lose control of the car. Persons in the neighborhood looked like a blow out just before the crash. The car, a Chevrolet cabriolet, is owned by his brother, Charles M. Weil.

Weil suffered a broken nose, bad facial cuts and a sprained right arm. He was taken to City hospital for first-aid treatment and later removed to his home in the C. E. Curtiland building.

The axle and radius of the car were jammed into the motor, the front wheels were wrecked, the windshield was broken and the body of the car was sprung by the force of the impact. The car was taken to The Haberman Chevrolet garage.

COUNCIL REFUSES CLAIM FOR DAMAGES

Although it had been recommended by Service Director E. O. Unclapher and a resolution authorizing the payment prepared by City Solicitor Carter M. Patton, council at its meeting last night refused to authorize the payment of $225 to Elizabeth Rowe for damages to her automobile resulting from being sideswiped by a garbage wagon of the city service department.

Councilman W. G. Slack who is also chairman of the finance committee of council, objected to paying the money until a further investigation had been made and the details of the accident given council by the service director. The city solicitor's account of the accident to council was that the car was parked along the curb when a garbage wagon passed too close and damaged a fender.

NEW TRAFFIC LIGHTS PLAN OF DIRECTOR

Council Instructs Murphy To Make Recommendations as to Location.

The addition of three and possibly four traffic lights to those already regulating traffic at various intersections, was assured at the meeting of city council last night when Safety Director Lemery M. Murphy asked council to give the matter of the location of the lights some thought before April when, he assured council, money would be available for their purchase.

Council, however, refused to give the matter any thought and the safety director was instructed to make a study of the situation and present his recommendations to council. Three intersections were designated by the safety director last night as dangerous, the intersection of north Main and George, of Pearl and Columbia and of Superior and south Prospect.

The selection of the locations for the additional lights will in all probability be based on safety reports.

Traffic lights, the safety director told council, can now be installed and operated on money from the gasoline tax.

Taking a tendency of going into a rut, he said, he pointed out that because they are so occupied with their immediate problems and difficulties, he said, the men and women who can see far enough ahead to realize that today's problems are only a part of the picture of life will progress and prosper, he predicted.

A copy of the resolution passed by the Akron council attached to the communication, petitioned Governor White to arrange for a special session of the legislature to take some action in the matter. ## The Stars Say—

For Wednesday, Jan. 27.

THE astrological signs bearing on the affairs of this day point to an unusual degree of activity, with possibly excitement following the removal of some long-thwarting obstacle, depression or stagnation. The result may be a substantial balancing of affairs, with increased possessions, but this attainment may be accompanied by disputes and underhand hostility coming to the surface. Private associations may be expected to feel an agitating effect from these.

Those whose birthday it is may look for a very active year following a long stagnant condition. This clearing the atmosphere, with certain crafty and treacherous undermining "smoked out," will result in stabilized fortunes and well-earned accumulations of real possessions. The private affairs may feel agitations, but be careful to avoid disputes, litigation, rash and impulsive conduct. A child born on this day may be energetic, inclined to be hasty and impulsive as well as quarrelsome. It should be practical, industrious and successful, however. # $291 Is Cost to County for Each Inmate in Home

It cost $21,305.66 or $291.46 a patient, to operate the Marion county home in 1931, an annual report filed with the county commissioners and with the department of public welfare by Supt. M. D. Porter shows.

These figures include all expenditures except improvements on the home.

There was a daily average of slightly more than 73 inmates. A total of 111 inmates, including 88 males and 13 females, were inmates at different times during the year. Nineteen persons were discharged, 12 died and two were sent to state institutions, leaving a total of 78 in the home at the end of the year.

A majority of inmates were more than 60 years of age. Of those remaining at the close of the year, 60 were more than 60 years of age, and 18 were between the ages of 18 and 60.

Old age is the chief cause of pauperism of inmates, according to the report. Of the 78 inmates on Dec. 31, there were 40 whose pauperism was attributed to old age. Seventeen others were disabled by disease or sickness, 11 were not entirely disabled and five were disabled through loss of members. Fifty-eight of the total were born in Ohio, 14 in other states and six in foreign countries.

YOUNG FLIER DIES IN PRACTICE FLIGHT

Brother of Marion Man Killed While Preparing for Test.

Robert Showers, brother of T. O. Showers, navy recruiting officer, of south State street, who met death in an airplane accident near Champaign, Ill., last Thursday, was killed while practicing for his solo flight test, it became known here today when T. O. Showers returned from Champaign.

According to Showers, the accident occurred at about 3:30 p. m. Thursday while Showers was making a practice landing preparatory to making his solo flight test Friday for his private pilot license. He was attempting his sixth landing and had cut his motor at an altitude of about 800 feet. At 500 feet the plane went into a tail spin and crashed into a muddy field, killing Showers instantly and demolishing the plane.

William H. Snowden, owner of the airport at which Showers was practicing and Glenn L. Brown, a pilot, were the first to reach the wrecked plane and experienced considerable difficulty in extricating the body from the wreckage. They carried the body to a nearby farm house.

Young Showers, who visited his brother here last fall, was born in Champaign and was a graduate of the Champaign high school. Besides his brother here, he is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Showers of Champaign and two sisters, Mrs. George Fisher of Harrison, Tex., and Miss Catherine Showers at home.

If GAS Were Sold Over the Counter

It would cost many Times the Price!

As it is, gas service is available to you in the most economical form. Gas fuel is ready—at the turn of a valve—to cook your meals, heat your home, heat the family water supply, furnish silent, carefree refrigeration and provide comfort and convenience in many other forms.

Yet—gas fuel requires no storage space, no inconveniences nor delays in delivery—and it is not paid for until after it is used. And still—

Your gas dollar buys more than any dollar you spend.

Even at a 75-cent rate, gas cooks a meal for a quarter of a cent per person—heats bath water at less than the cost of the soap—and refrigerates at less than four cents a day!

Lecture-Recital Club Hears Delightful Program at Hotel

GROUPS of piano, vocal and instrumental numbers made up an evening of music arranged for the pleasure of members of the Lecture-Recital club at Hotel Harding last night. The program was presented in the ballroom which was well filled for the occasion. Presiding the program members of the club were Miss Grace Duffee at the piano and Miss George Duffee at the home of Miss Grace Duffee on south Main street for a study hour of "Modern French Composers."

Taking part in the program were Miss Bernice Gough, pianist; Miss Margaret Hoover, violinist; and Mrs. R. O. Bresler, Mrs. C. L. Rutherford, Mrs. Eugene H. Moore and Miss Dora Jacobs, members of the Colonial quarter. Miss Gough rearranged her groupings in the program and presented for her first numbers "All Through the Night," Scott, and one of Debussy's delightful tone pictures, "Gardenes in the Rain." Her concluding number was Grieg's "Sonata in E Minor," which displayed her ability in tonal shading and technique as well as an entertaining performer. The number was presented in three movements.

Mrs. Moore sang a group of three pleasing numbers including "The Linden Tree," Schubert, "At the Well," Hageman and "Love and I," Romell. The selections were in delightful contrast ranging from the unusual musical setting of the Schubert number to Hageman's ultra-modern arrangement and Romell's hitting notes. Her accompaniments were played by Mrs. R. O. Hoover, who also played the accompaniments and sang with the quartet in the two groups. The varied selections chosen by the quartet were charming in their presentation and heartily received by the audience.

The first group included "Come Over the Sea," Vogrich, "Now is the Month of Maying," Harris, and Buck's delightful arrangement of "Annie Laurie."

The second group included "In Gay Seville," Gibb, "Slumber Song," Rebikoff, and "The Sleigh," Kountz Baldwin. The numbers were presented in costume.

Miss Hoover included two numbers in her group of pleasing presentations, "Kol Nodret," Opus 47 and "Berceuse," Madame Lawrence Townsend. Mrs. John Lacey presided at the piano for the accompaniments.

THIN without
starving

The Modern Way
Do you know that multitudes of people, nowadays, lose excess fat without starving? Look about you—note how slenderness prevails. Everywhere you see the amazing results of this new way of treating obesity. Modern science has discovered that a great cause of excess fat lies in a weakened gland. That gland secretion helps turn food into energy. When it is lacking, fat piles up and vim goes down. Doctors, the world over, now feed that lacking factor to the over-fat. And the method has largely changed the world.

Marmola prescription tablets present this method in right form, at small cost. A famous medical laboratory prepares them for that purpose. People have used them for 24 years—millions of boxes of them. The slender figures which surround you now are due largely to the factors in Marmola. Modern doctors know that. No secrets about Marmola. A book in each box gives the formula—tells you exactly why the weight drops and vim comes up.

Go try this method. All other ways are bound to fail if this gland cause is not corrected. Ask your slender friends who have used Marmola. Go do what they did—now.

DELAY OPENING OF HART TRIAL

Defense Attorney Granted Stay: Hearing Opens Next Tuesday.

Special to The Star
MT. GILEAD, Jan. 26.—T. R. Mater attorney for William Hart, scheduled to go on trial today for the murder of George Addison, made a successful last minute effort to delay the start of the trial Monday afternoon when he filed an affidavit with the court asking that the case be continued indefinitely.

He said the defense was not in possession of certain papers from the medical division of the veterans bureau which were necessary to establish the defense's claim that Addison died of an infirmity existing prior to the time the knife wounds were inflicted. Addison died at University hospital in Columbus a week after being stabbed at his home in Bloomfield.

Judge W. P. Vaughan this morning granted the request for a continuance as the deposition of the veterans' bureau administrator could not be taken when Mater, Sheriff Charles E. Miller and Hart were sent to Washington last week.

The medical record on three examinations of Hart were on file at Richmond, Va., and will be sent to the clerk of courts here for use of the defense in the trial.

Judge Vaughan has set next Tuesday for the start of the trial.

SALARY OF CITY CHEMIST REDUCED

Council Vote Pay from $225 to $175 a Month.

Another step in the retrenching policy of city council was taken last night when an ordinance reducing the salary of the superintendent of the disposal plant, who is also city chemist, from $225 to $175 a month, was passed.

Members of council did not comment on the reduction but it is the belief that the fact that Floyd Browne, who now holds the position, was granted permission by city council several years ago to spend one-half day each week at the disposal plant at Delaware to assist in the management there, was instrumental in bringing about the reduction.

made to pay its freight, and still could be retailed at a price within everybody's reach.

Selling his chewing gum on the road during his early Chicago career, Wrigley was twitted about his city of Chicago by a rival salesman who remarked that the town did not even own its own ball club—the Chicago National league team, controlled by Cincinnati interests.

The jest struck home, for baseball was Wrigley's hobby, and the whim born then was gratified 25 years later when Wrigley and several associates acquired the club from the Cincinnati men who still owned it. A few years later he obtained sole control of the club, and added to his baseball holdings the Los Angeles team of the Pacific Coast League.

Purchased Island

His third major business venture was the purchase in 1919 of Catalina Island, off the California coast, which he converted not only into a popular summer resort, but into silver, lead and zinc mining properties which pyramided his fortune.

William Wrigley Jr. was born to William Wrigley Sr. and Mary Laidley Wrigley at Philadelphia on Sept. 30, 1861.

RAPE KILLED BY AUTO

DANDRUFF A Sure Way to End It

There is one sure way that has never failed to remove dandruff at once, and that is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, just get about four ounces of plain, ordinary liquid arvon, from any drug store (this is all you will need), apply it at night when retiring, use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning most if not all of your dandruff will be gone, and two or three more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find, too, all itching and digging of the scalp will stop instantly and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft and look and feel a hundred times better. Adv.

AUNT OF MARION DENTIST CLAIMED

The death of Miss Mattie Baker, 91 of Johnson, Vt., aunt of Dr. E. H. Raffenberger, dentist of Prospect street, reveals an unusual family longevity.

Dr. Raffenberger's mother, Miss Anna Raffenberger, died here two years ago at the age of 94. A short time before her death, her brother, Albe Whiting died in Topeka, Kan. at the age of 92.

Mrs. Baker visited in Marion on several occasions while her sister was alive. She died last Thursday and was buried in Johnson. The two sisters and brother were the last members of their immediate families.

Daily Proverb—"It is easier to suppress the first desire than to satisfy all that follow it."

London hears that hard times are receding over here. Let's hope somebody hasn't been joshing the Londoners.

The revolution started by reds in Salvador was put down by the government with but few of them killed in the fighting. There is always the fly in the ointment.

Senator Wheeler, of Montana, sees as the only hope of the country "the remonetization of silver on a basis of sixteen to one." With Burton supporting it, it looks as though the
"only hope of the country" has gone glimmering.

The receipts of the state of Wisconsin during the fiscal year of 1930 exceeded the state's expenditures by $7,838,748, which is reminding of the business management of practically all the other states of the union—it's so different.

The National Association of Merchant Tailors favor "cheerful" clothes, designed to "pull the men of America out of the gloom." If they are to be any more "cheerful" than some one sees on the streets, it's going to be mighty dangerous to leave horse-blankets around loose.

Twelve Phye chairs brought $7,500 at a recent auction in New York City. It's up to us up-to-date people to go through our cellars and garrets and look over the stuff we have junked
to keep pace with our neighbors.

While it is true that Captain Frank Hawks flew the 2,600 miles from Agua Caliente, Mexico, to Vancouver, Canada, in thirteen hours
and forty-four minutes, making a new mark
for two ways between the cities, there are so comparatively few of us who care to go after such marks that one may well ask: "What's the use of them?"

One of the business leaders of Honolulu places responsibility for crime in that city on a "rotten police force," melodramatic and sex
films and vivid accounts of crime in the United States published in the papers there. That's a combination which will encourage crime almost anywhere.

The chief incentive of those who will attempt to raise the treasure of the Lusitania is to recover jewels and gold coins in the vessel's safe valued at $5,000,000. Going down to the depth at which the one-time Cunarder is supposed to rest upon the ocean bed is an awful risk, but $5,000,000 may be said to be a powerful magnet to adventurous souls.

The house naval affairs committee has approved the Vinson $616,250,000 naval construction bill, unanimously, but postponed indefinitely action on it by congress. More and more Congressman Vinson's bill takes on the earmarks of a "trading" measure looking to its effect on the coming Geneva conference.

The Congressional Record appendix, which has come in for not a little criticism of late,
is costing the country $840 a day, on the average, while congress is in session. A blind man with both hands tied behind his back could without any difficulty tell congress how to save at least $840 a day.

Intervention, Not War.
It should be understood clearly, the Japanese insist, that Japan's activities in Manchuria represent intervention, not war. Strange as it may seem to those who have been following the advancing Nipponese soldiers as they chased the hapless Chinese soldiers, there has been no declaration of war. China, in fact, has not even broken its diplomatic relations with Japan.

It makes the Manchurian deal appear more than ever to be one in which Japan has the cards stacked, and the opponent disarmed.
China has every reason to declare war, and certainly sufficient grounds for breaking off diplomatic relations. Yet, to do so would mean that eventually China would be obliged to sue for peace and take the heavy yoke of a Japanese-dictated treaty. So long as the Manchurian situation technically represents only intervention by Japan to protect her present treaty rights, Japan will find it difficult to obtain legal grounds for exacting new treaty concessions from China.

China on Monday invoked Article 16 of the covenant of the League of Nations against Japan. Article 16 provides for economic and military pressure against any League member which resorts to war in violation of its covenant. It is doubtful if such action would be sufficient provocation for Japan to declare war against China formally, but it is even more doubtful if the League of Nations will permit the situation to reach such a point. The brutal truth is that its members do not intend to do anything about Japan's intervention, invasion, war, or call it by any other name, that can not be done with a pen and a piece of paper—safely.

The Biggest Thing of Its Kind.

The United States wants desperately to believe in the power of the Reconstruction Finance corporation "to mobilize the gigantic strength of our country for recovery. The will to believe is sufficient for the present. Time will prove the rightness of believing.

No government in the world ever threw itself
into the breach before to defend institutions, interests and individuals against hard times in such a grand manner. No government, not in frank alliance with business could, take such action.

The corporation will have all its capital of $500,000,000 subscribed by the federal government, which will raise the money presumably by new issues of securities. The corporation is empowered to raise an additional $1,000,000, 000 by issuing bonds, which the government will buy if private investors do not take them up.

The most trusted of the administration's dollar diplomats will serve as its head. Charles C. Dawes will make a success of the enterprise if any one can. He will be assisted by a group representing the nation's best financial minds.
Everything possible has been done to insure success.

It means that government has pledged itself
to stand behind business as long as there is a place to stand.

It means that government is giving to business, in the interests of general recovery, the same aid it gave to agriculture in the revolving fund administered by the federal farm board.
It means, furthermore, that government is subject to the same risks that have arisen in connection with the farm loan. Whether or not that risk will be pointed out with such bitter vigor now that the most active critic has become the chief benefactor remains to be seen.
Most of all, however, creation of the Reconstruction Finance corporation means that the federal government has extended itself to the utmost to frustrate the insidious attack of hard times by a bold and unprecedented counter attack. It is a great experiment in subsidizing the biggest thing of its kind.

All the eggs are in one basket, but it's the strongest basket that the collective ability of this great nation could devise on short notice.
It is in capable hands, and if hoping and faith
will do the trick, nothing but good will happen to it.

The internal revenue bureau in Washington has issued figures showing a drop of more than $1,000,000,000 in internal revenue receipts
during the calendar year, 1931, the figures being $2,322,968,393 in 1930 to $1,368,035,487
the present year from income taxes and $509,997, 466 from miscellaneous taxes in 1930 to $546, 019,155 this year. Another illustration of the fact that our income tax is a revenue producer only when there are incomes upon which to assess it.

Thanks to Lytton Strachey.
Thanks to Lytton Strachey, readers of biography get entertainment and instruction as well as facts. His service scarcely can be appreciated without recalling the old-fashioned dry-as-dust fashion of recording the events of human life.

Strachey started the idea of writing biography so people would like to read it, with a life of Queen Victoria. He couldn't have made a better selection than that somewhat starchy queen. By daring to pump life into the dusty personage of a queen, he rocked the foundations of English history, but he also demonstrated the advantages of his new biographical standards to a greater audience than he could have commanded otherwise.

Lytton Strachey was not a "debunker," however. He prodded with a surgeon's precision, and described with a poet's instinct, where crude fellows with more ambition than ability have lumbered into other lives with meat axes and muck rakes. It may be charged against him that he opened the way for their clumsy butchery of biographical material, but it is to his credit that he also opened the way for some of the truly fine treatments of such material
in more considerate hands.

He did not have a long life. Death has claimed him at the age of fifty-two. His contribution to literature—a new attitude on a great literary subject—will not be soon forgotten.

Announcement is made that the Army-Navy football game netted $289,278 for relief of the needy. Had the contest come earlier in the season, it would have constituted a real, for-sure mark for some of our colleges to go after
in a good cause.

In a 50,000-word report, Samuel Seabury, as head of the Hofstadter legislative committee, lashes Tammany and asks the state assembly to break that organization's "sordid" grip on New York City. All of which goes to show how far apart even two such good Democrats as Mr. Seabury and Mayor Walker can get at times, when one is working for the best interests of the city and the other is kowtowing to Tammany.

The Conference That Never Came.
There will be no Lausanne conference on reparations—not until one can be held safely.
Great Britain, which had issued the invitations,
is trying to act like nothing had happened.
Other nations invited are encouraged to forget about it as quickly as possible.

It won't be hard for the Republican administration of the United States to forget. The party platform in 1928 contained a firm declaration against cancellation of war debts, one of the questions which would have been bound to come up at a reparations conference.
It was only a few weeks ago that Chancellor Bruening made a bid for popular favor in Germany by declaring there would be no more reparations. Perhaps he would have liked to reaffirm that statement, so sweet to German ears, in a formal conference, but the purposes of the forthcoming national election have been solved, so even Germany will be able to forget.

France, Great Britain and Italy, which tried hard not to take too seriously Chancellor Bruening's warning that Germany was through paying reparations, would just as soon put off
the fatal day of reparations reckoning as long as possible. Hence it is that all the powers concerned, Germany excepted, are satisfied that the Lausanne conference didn't materialize.

Dinner Stories.
"You know," remarked the chemist, "that alcohol can be made of almost anything, even
of old leather."
"That fact," rejoined Uncle Bill Rottelput,
"may account for the flavor of some of this so-called bootleg liquor."

"You applauded the music wildly,"
"Yes," replied Mr. Rufnek. "I got tired of sitting still and listening. I wanted to make a little noise on my own account."

"I think," said Farmer Cornstossel, "that we ought to take steps to prevent our son from spending so much time in idleness."
"Again you are doing the boy an injustice," replied the fond mother. "He is the busiest thing on the place. He is coloring a pipe, raising a mustache and learning to play the gul-
tar."

"I don't blame that cook of ours for wanting more salary," remarked Mr. Growcher.
"But you are always complaining of the food
she prepares."

"Certainly," she undoubtedly wants a larger income, so that she can afford to eat at a restaurant."

"Brevity, you know, is the soul of wit,"
"All right," replied the musical comedy manager, "we'll have the costumes made still scan-ter."

HOW MUCH LONGER ON WRONG ROAD?

In the years since the war the political trend
has been toward legislation designed to save some money for the "ultimate consumer" or the "original producer" through restriction or elimination of private profits. A popular method has been to substitute, or to try to substitute, governmental services, financed by the tax payers for services heretofore privately performed for private gain. Another has been restriction by government of charges that could be made for services privately performed.

The theory has been that the saving of a few dollars for each of the many millions of persons would more than offset the loss of many millions, or even billions of dollars enforced upon the transportation companies, the power companies and the concerns dealing in foodstuffs and other necessities. (Hint the other fellow wouldn't even have the voter's demand, well-come and even invited by the politician of a certain stripe.)

So that a few cents might be saved here and there on the consumer's bill for living costs, or that a few cents might be added here or there to the producer's income—regardless of what might be taken meanwhile from the business man, the small shareholder and the taxpayer—it has been proposed at one time or another to set federal or local governments up in the transportation business, the milling business, the gasoline business, the coal business,
the gas business, the milk distribution business,
the drug business, the electrical power business, the street railway business, the school textbook publishing business, the banking business, the real estate business, the grain business, the cotton business, the packing business,
the wholesale food business, and what not.

These proposals are apart from those of the Communists and Socialists, that the government take over all lines of business. Yet the whole trend, based on the fallacy that the public is benefited by the elimination of this man's profit and that man's profit—is directly in line with the course charted by Communist and Socialist.

If, for example, it is sound policy to abolish the miller's chance to profit or the grain dealer's chance to profit, in the hope that the farm owner may get a little more for his wheat, why is it not sound policy to abolish also, through nationalization of the land, the farm owner's chance of profit, in the hope that the consumer
may save something on the bread he buys?

That is what the Communist wants to know,
and the politician who would confiscate the mills without at the same time confiscating
the farms, will have a hard time answering the Communist's question.

As a matter of fact, each such abolition of the individual's chance to profit by necessary service legitimately performed is equally unsound, whether it affects miller or farmer, power company or Cobbler, railroad or corner grocer. Prosperity is built out of profits, not out of forced losses. In order that citizens may save money on their living costs, they must first have some money to save. And the money necessarily must come out of profits.

Five cents a shoe does not help the hungry man who lacks the five cents. Lower freight rates on shoes do not help the farmer who lacks the price of the shoes. Trade economies effected at the cost of the national prosperity are manifestly false economies. And it is about time that voters were finding it out.—Minneapolis Journal.

HURRY UP, CONGRESS!

Ears Are Easily Infected.

BY ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D.

Today I want to tell you about some common ear complaints. Most of them are caused by negligence.

Have you ever noticed how many persons
there are who constantly scratch or pick at their ears? Not only is this an unpleasant habit, but it is a practice that often leads to trouble. Others are too energetic in cleaning their ears and in this way do damage.

As a result of this too strenuous cleaning, the wax is pushed inward. It may be forced into a plug that cuts out the sound waves,
then there is difficulty in hearing.

If you have an excessive amount of wax in the ear, do not pick at it or try to remove it.
Above all, never use a toothpick or a bawlin in this effort. It should be removed, but it is better done by a physician. He will get rid of it without damaging the ear drum.

One who has a cold or sore throat may complain of pain in the ears. This occurs when the infection travels from the throat or nose to the ear. An infection of this type requires attention.

The middle ear is an acceptable place for germs to grow. If this happens they will eventually produce an inflammation, perhaps with pus formation. Then there will be severe pain in the ear, and sometimes the condition requires surgical attention.

There is one thing about which I would warn
you. Avoid excessive and violent blowing of the nose. Many individuals seem to think that in blowing the nose it is necessary to make as much noise as possible. The pressure caused by doing this is often enough to shoot
the infective material into the middle ear.

The nose should be blown gently and slowly.
It is best to empty one nostril at a time, and to do it very gently.

A common and annoying condition is itching of the ear. This may occur when water remains in the ear after swimming or bathing, or it may be due to eczema of the skin lining the canal of the ear. When rough efforts are made to scratch the ear it may bleed.
If the fingernails are dirty infection may occur, and this may develop into a painful abscess.

When the external ear is exposed to great cold, it may become frost-bitten. If this happens, never use hot applications or hot water.
To do so may cause severe damage. The ear should be rubbed with snow or ice water. The cold massage is stimulating and brings about the normal blood supply.

Chronic discharge from the ears is a common condition in children. This is usually a result of measles or scarlet fever. A child with an infection of this sort should receive proper attention by a specialist.

One of the most annoying conditions of adult life is head noise. In elderly people this is usually due to a hardening process in the tissues in the ear, or to high blood pressure.
In young children these noises in the head
may be due to some abnormality of the ear, nose, throat, sinuses or tonsils. The exact cause can be determined only by a careful examination.

A Vast Undertaking.

BY THOMAS B. MORGAN

Rome Jan. 26.—UP. Premier Benito Mussolini began a vast public undertaking when the first consignment of 100 tractors were delivered for the cultivation of 50,000 acres of what was the historic Pontine marshes, the terror of centuries from Roman times until now of the dread malaria.

In area it is one of the greatest works of land reclamation ever attempted.
The draining of the Pontine marshes, which stretch over a territory covering 320 square miles, or 750 square kilometers, was of primary importance to the ancient Romans for military reasons. The historic Roman highway to the south, via Appia, cut right through the center of the marshes and was stretched like a taut string for over fifty miles from Terracina on the coast to Rome. It was the main artery for legion sent, or returning, from Asia Minor. Successive Roman emperors tried to dry up the marshes in order to keep the via Appia free from inundations and slips. The extent of the work was too great even though they were able to call upon 100,000 slaves.

In the thirteenth century, Pope Boniface VIII tried to bring relief to the marshes because of the malaria scourge, but his efforts were with scant success. The problem continued to occupy the attention of the pope for centuries, but on account of the magnitude of the work little progress was made.

It was Pope Sixtus V. who reigned from 1585 to 1590, who did the first real constructive work, and his contribution even has remained to this day. Tradition says that this pope had a dream and it was revealed to him that the problem of the large amount of stagnant water would be solved, if he dug a canal and carried off the waters from the marshes to the sea. This canal has remained until this day and could be said to be partially successful in draining a section of the area.

Successive Italian governments have taken up the problem, but none attacked it in its entirety until Mussolini. He realized that besides the malaria scourge, there also was a vast area which was withheld from cultivation.
The first big task was financing such a project. According to the engineer's estimates it was going to require $15,000,000 to complete an adequate drainage plan. Mussolini called the owners of the property together and it was shown what fruitful results would do to increase the yield and the value of the land. The government was willing to aid in the financing while part of the land was to be ceded to the war veterans and 50,000 acres was set aside for them.

The principal landlord was Prince Don Genesio Caramia, former Italian ambassador in Washington, and he cooperated from the very first. While ambassador he had made a thorough study of American drainage methods, and
this he brought into the gigantic scheme.

The government recently has ordered the expediting of the whole plan. While thousands of acres are already reclaimed and ready for cultivation, the whole area is not expected to be restored for five years.

In the gigantic scheme, 300 miles of new roads are to be built, one-third of which already are constructed. There are 120 miles of narrow-gauge railroad employed in the excavation. The whole area is alive with activity, in which 5,000 workmen are employed.

Chase and the Pomeroy Letter of 1864.
BY J. H. GALBRAITH

The appearance of a circular letter bearing the signature of Samuel C. Pomeroy, of Kansas, seeking to rally the Republicans around Lincoln, has caused a great deal of public interest. The letter, which was brought to public notice, is a secret plan to displace Lincoln with Chase.
Chase immediately wrote a note to the president disavowing knowledge of the Pomeroy letter. It gave Mr. Lincoln an opportunity to discuss directly with Chase a matter that he had been cognizant of for some time.

Chase suggested in his note, after declaring that he had nothing to do with the letter, that perhaps the president would prefer that he resign from the cabinet under the circumstances. Mr. Lincoln's reply gave another example of his magnanimity even under great personal aggravation. His reply to Chase closed with these words:

"Whether you shall remain at the head of the treasury department is a question which I will not allow myself to consider from any standpoint other than in judgment of the public service, and in that view I do not perceive occasion for a change." That is, Chase was serving the country well as the head of the treasury department, and he would not sacrifice a good public servant, even though he should prove to be a poor friend.

Three days after the appearance of the Pomeroy letter, the Union party members of the Ohio legislature adopted a resolution on behalf of that party and the Ohio soldiers in the field, demanding that Mr. Lincoln be reelected, and there was nothing left for Mr. Chase to do but withdraw.

Senator Pomeroy, born in Massachusetts, and educated at Amherst, had led the first colony of Massachusetts people to Lawrence, Kansas, and settled that place. He was prominent in the free soil movement there and was a delegate to the national Republican conventions of 1856 and 1860. In 1861 he was elected to the United States senate, and was once reelected,
but when he came up for the second reelection,
charges of bribery in the legislature caused
his defeat, and he removed to Washington,
which was his home for the rest of his life.

New York Day by Day.

BY O. O. MINTYRE

New York, Jan. 26.—When E. Berry Wall, Jr., the shore to luxuriate under the portico
Rive de Rivoli with his purple-tongued coach,
New York looked upon Patrick Francis Murphy as the last of the dandies. Now that he is gone there seems no one to carry on the last of the mid-Victorian gestures.

Lucius Beebe once hailed Wall's manner
and habits as "an orfiamme to sportsmen, a sort of modern banner of Navarre."
This mantle fell naturally upon the dandy Murphy. He was the sole link connecting the harsh modern clatter with the soft gasp of the past.

New York has many high rollers, but they are mostly "sports," and not dandies as the generation knew the term. With the passing of the dandy goes the art of leisure. The dandy knew his Almanach de Gotha, the bead of wine and was callous to the craving of work.

BOY CRAZY

by GRACE PERKINS

SYNOPSIS
 Papa Ross, "the prettiest, most and most envied girl in town," has learned, at 17, how to have a good time. Her father spoils her and her mother gives up trying to mould her into a proper girl. Papa Ross, a successful business man, is a very attractive sister. Yet Hope is never content. She is constantly on the trail of new clothes, new ornaments, new excitements. She leads her gang on madcap escapades. Mrs. Ross urges her husband to try to curb her extravagance. "I didn't know that way when I was a girl," she says. "Hope is a little crazy," Mr. Ross says. "I am more than paid for Hope's fun, and she provided an enormous estate in Westchester county for her homecomings."

CEREAL RELIEVED HIS CONSTIPATION

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN Brought New Health

Every one who has suffered from constipation should read Mr. P. M. Fisher's letter:

"For many years I suffered from constipation and used, for relief, all kinds of laxatives. After a few days' treatment, I would only find myself in the same state as before and at times worse."

"Some time ago I started to use Kellogg's ALL-BRAN regularly, once a day as directed. Since doing this, I have found that I do not need any other medicine to procure the desired result, and it keeps me in a very healthy condition."—Mr. P. M. Fisher, 352 Evergreen Place, Ridge wood, N. J.

Constipation is caused by lack of two things in the diet: "Bulk" to exercise the intestines; Vitamin B to keep the intestinal tract. ALL-BRAN supplies both—and also iron for the blood.

"The 'bulk' in ALL-BRAN is much like that in lettuce. Inside the body, it forms a soft mass, which gently clears out the wastes."

How much safer this is than risky pills and drugs—so often harmful. Just eat two tablespoonsful daily—in serious cases, with every meal. If your intestinal trouble is not relieved in this way, see your doctor.

Equally tasty as a cereal, or used in cooking. Get the red-and-green package at your grocer's. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

"She is young," gurgled the narrow brook nervously as it rushed and leaped over the stones of the rock garden, anxious to hurry on and away from the scene of coming sorrow. "She is young," persisted the brook endlessly as the moonlight beat down on its splashing current.

"Yes, she is young," winked the red and yellow and green lanterns glowing in the trees. "That mother and father think they know her so well, and they cannot dream the depth of her untroubled and unshaken little heart."

But the trees and the flowers, the brook and the lanterns hadn't a chance. A five piece orchestra, set up on the terrace after the lengthy business of feasting, quite drowned out the wailing. "Once in a Blue Moon," whined the orchestra, as any good orchestra would whine in 1924.

"Once in a Blue Moon you will meet the right one," said Rusty. Rusty went the orchestra, claret whining and laughing, a painful, hysterical laugh, against the piano keys telling of wordless secrets and giddy heartbreaks.

But Hope wasn't listening. Hope was fluttering about, talking in a bubbling stream.

"Hello, Rusty, you big schmozzle! There's to be a Christmas party at Placid, Shit! We're not telling everyone, I can only have six couples, and Goochy has to come. So that makes only five couples really. I'm asking you, Rusty, not because you're an outstanding favorite, but because my folks expect me to ask you. They have an idea, Rusty, that I'll marry some day. Isn't it a scream? Maybe I will, when I get old and ugly. And I have five divorces. Don't propose to me again, Rusty. Love is so trivial, and I want to be serious tonight."

"Let's go down by the tennis court and cool off. There's nobody down there. Oh, isn't there? Look at Judy Hunt with Roger! Making up with him! I never thought she'd do it. Oh yes, it's because of the football game. He's wants to go with the hero half-back. Listen, Judy has designed a half-back evening gown. She wants to go and wear it. I suppose. Isn't she a lark? Of course, Judy's coming to Placid. Isn't Judy my grandest friend in the party?"

"Let's go back to the world, Rusty, they'll be missing us."

"Well, I have to care if they miss us because I'm the hostess, and besides Dad might get sore if I'm not under his nose. Well, if you must kiss me, kiss me on the back of my neck."

"Heart of a Wife"

—BY ADELE GARRISON—

Noel arrives for the Shore Dinner, and by Madge's Clever Manoeuvring Marion Finds Herself Sadly Neglected.

THE sensation of sitting on a powder barrel watching fire-crackers explode around me, as the members of the farm-house family and our youthful guests gathered in excited and apparently joyous reunion around the table, where Katie and Mrs. Tier served the "shore dinner" which I had planned for a welcome home to Lillian, Marion, Mary and the three guests, Carolyn and Ronald Brixton and Bob Trevellan.

It is a terrible grief, indeed, that will keep you from the role of "valiant trencherman," and there was no such emotion troubling any one of our young people.

Marion has a surprise. Even Ronald, who had the most cause for mental disturbance, clamed full justice to the steamed chickens, the lobster, the broiled chickens, and the sweet corn—crowning triumph of Jim's autumn garden—which were the main dishes of the dinner. As I covertly watched him, I paid tribute not only to his self-control, but to the finesse with which he was approaching the problem I had given him—that of lessening his attention to Marion and paying court to Mary.

I had made no change in the usual seating arrangement when the Brixtons were present, with Ronald next to Marion, but I had placed Mary upon the other side of him, and without appearing to do so, had left enough space between Mary's place and mine so that a chair for Noel could be slipped unobtrusively into position for him when he should arrive.

There are few things to equal the unconscious cruelty of a girl, temporarily infatuated with one man, toward the one who previously has monopolized her attention. I guessed the "antipathy" with which Marion had treated Ronald during the last week, and also surmised that the trip down by themselves in the small car, for which Lillian had arranged, had been packed with unpleasantness.

But, with the predatory instinct of all felinae including women, Marion, looking over the table and seeing a Jill for every Jack except for herself and Mary, ranged on either side of Ronald, patently determined to monopolize his attention during the dinner, as she invariably had done ever since they first met.

I could have laughed aloud in spite, not malicious, but satisfied, at the salutary effect being produced by my little scheme, when Marion's lovely face became a positive interrogation point of puzzlement as Ronald, with the perfect but deadly courtesy which the modern, socially trained young man can affect toward a girl who does not appeal to him. He answered her every question, saw to it that all her dinner table wants were supplied, but turned from her respectably to exchange laughing, rapid-fire banter with Mary—the sort of thing from which all but the two concerned are excluded. I saw resentment, quick, bewildered in Marion's face and caught her glance around the table in mute search of some weapon with which to bring Ronald to heel. But Bob Trevellan, the only other young man at the table, was so engrossed with Carolyn that he did not even catch Marion's glance, and with the age-old camouflage of women, she made a valiant pretense of interest in the food before her.

The Arrival of Noel

The sound of a motor in the driveway, followed a few seconds later by the peal of the doorbell, brought us all to attention. Those in the secret of Noel's expected arrival and those who simply had the curious interest that is always stirred by any unexpected visitor at dinner time.

"Meester Noel Verstraen," Katie announced solemnly, and the next instant Noel a bit perturbed with his eyes seeking for Mary, was in our midst, the men rising and greeting him roughly, the women smiling and reaching out welcoming hands to him.

"Oh, I didn't know you were at dinner," he said, with every appearance of truth, although he flushed slightly as he caught my eye. "I thought it was too late."

"It's never too late for dinner at this shack," Dicky told him. "We have a most elastic schedule. Any time from six to midnight you'll find the Graham family feeding."

"Dicky," I expostulated, keeping up the pretense of surprise. "What a faradiddle! We are a bit late to night, Noel. I turned to the new corner, and what a piece of luck it is that we have an aunt here, half than thought and half than Katie, sitting in the first course right away here!" I moved my chair to the right. "Tuck a chair right in here between Mary and me."

"But I've already dined," he faltered, mendaciously.

A Grimmer Drama Ahead

"Yeah, I know how you dine when you're meeting a young man," Dicky said. "I've been with you. A couple of hot dogs and an ice cream cone. Sit down before I have to come around and put you down. I hate to inflate the ego of my aunt and her cook but this dinner is worth eating."

"I'm sure it is," Noel answered, and then, as always when in her area, Mary, he fell silent, his eyes darting her face. When it had been said softly, "Hello, Mary," it was as if he were intoning a ritual.

The stage was now set for light comedy drama with youthful players in the stellar roles, but we oldsters were unconsciously scheduled for grimmer business. No sooner had we settled down to our food again than that we were once more interrupted, this time by a telegram for Harry Underwood, in which I felt an instinctive little premonition. That fellow envelope held exciting and vital things.

Best Remedy for Cough Is Easily Mixed at Home

You'll never know how quickly a stubborn cough due to a cold can be conquered, until you try this famous recipe. It is used in millions of homes, because it gives more prompt, positive relief than anything else. It is no trouble at all to mix and costs but a trifle. Into a pint bottle, pour 2 1/2 ounces of Pine-Sol, then add 1/2 pound granulated sugar, 1/2 cup of strained honey to make a full pint. This makes two thirds of the money usually spent for cough medicine, and gives you a purer, better remedy. It never spoils, and tastes good. Children like it.

You can actually feel its penetrating, soothing action on the inflamed throat membranes. It is also absorbed into the blood, where it acts directly on the bronchial tubes. At the same time, it promptly loosens the phlegm plug. This three fold action explains why it brings such quick relief even in those severe coughs which follow cold epidemics.

Pine-Sol is a highly concentrated compound of Norway Pine, containing the active agent of creosote, in a refined, palatable form, and known as one of the greatest medicinal agents for severe coughs and bronchial irritations. Do not accept a substitute for Pine-Sol. It is guaranteed to give prompt relief or money refunded.

Harding Battles To Hold Share in N. C. O. Lead Saturday

MANSFIELD TYGERS OPPOSE PRESIDENTS IN IMPORTANT CLASH

Conflict Moved Up One Day on Request of Out-of-Town Officials.

A snarling Mansfield Tiger court combination will provide the piece de resistance this week for the Harding basketball team as the Red and Black court representatives battle for the right to retain at least a share in the highest position of the standings in the North Central Ohio league. Harding will travel to Mansfield on Saturday for this all-important conflict. The game, originally scheduled for Friday, has been moved to Saturday on account of conflicting dates at Mansfield.

A victory for Harding this week will assure for the Presidents the privilege of no less than a share of the top post for at least another week. A defeat will send them at least into second place, a point incidentally which Harding has not occupied yet this season, having been perched on the top rung ever since the season got under way.

Two Other Games. The other four teams of the N. C. O. circuit will settle their dispute of the week on Friday night as usual. Gallon will trek to Sherwood and attempt to make amends for some previous poor showings. Bucyrus will entertain Ashland in the hope of stopping a 15-game losing streak which started last season.

Viewing their impending conflict in a very confident manner, the Harding basketballers yesterday afternoon romped through a stiff workout on the Harding High gym court. Today Coach D. N. Bohrer will take his charges to the Shovel gym where they will work out for the remainder of the week.

Despite the fact Harding is in none too good physical condition for grueling contest right at present, the hope persists that all of the ailing members will be back in shape for a hard game before Saturday night. The day's delay occasioned by the change in dates, is regarded as somewhat of a "break" for Harding inasmuch as it will allow an extra day of practice and also give the injured players more time to get in condition. Billie Hertz and Fred Vestal are the two principal members of the casualty list. Hertz is suffering from a leg injury and Vestal has an arch giving him considerable trouble.

Beecher Shows Well. The Harding boys went through their paces yesterday in impressive style, every member of the team hitting the hoop with accuracy and most of them doing at least a fairly good job on the floor. John Blecher continued in the same form which has marked his play since replacing Carls last week, giving further hope that he will be able to fill in the vacated forward post in a highly efficient style.

Bing Miller, Philadelphia Athletics' rightfielder is rated as one of the fastest base runners in the American league. He is 37.

Salary Worry?

Babe Ruth

Babe Ruth may be worrying about his salary dispute with Col. Jake Ruppert but if he is, he doesn't show it. Since the Babe politely informed the good Colonel that he needed $50,000 for putting in a daily appearance at American League parks, he has been going out daily to shoot his round of golf. And if his golf ball players, he isn't worrying about a baseball salary. He's worrying about his divot digging.

PROSPECT YOUTH ON U. S. OLYMPIC SQUAD

Dwight Rouse To Compete With Marine Corps at Los Angeles.

Dwight Rouse, formerly a resident of Prospect, will compete in the Olympic games at Los Angeles next summer, word received here yesterday from Panama City, Panama, indicates. Rouse, a member of the U. S. marine corps stationed in Panama will take part in the running broad jump wearing the colors of the marine corps. Rouse recently shattered the running broad jump record of the corps by hurling himself through the air for a distance of twenty-four feet eight and one half inches. He graduated from Prospect High school in 1924.

Rouse is a member of the Fifth corps division. He will sail from Balboa, Panama on April 26, for Los Angeles on the U. S. S. President Hoover.

Herb Keith, Freeport, Ill., pro football player, punted 91 yards in a charity game with Clinton, Ia. The ball traveled 72 yards in the air.

CALVARY HAS VISION OF STAGING SECOND CHURCH LOOP UPSET

Clashes with Christians Tonight on Y Court; Two Other Games.

Although six teams will take to the Y. M. C. A. court tonight in a trio of basketball games, only one of the three contests can have any bearing on the standings of the league leaders. At present, Epworth M. E. and Central Christians are knotted for the top post, both with a perfect record of five games won and none lost.

Calvary Evangelical, the team which before this season was looked on as somewhat of a push-over, will attempt to pull a second major upset by putting the skids under the Christians tonight in the third of the three-game bill. Calvary recently eased the 1931 champions, First Presbyterians, out of the running for a second title with a well-earned victory and now has visions of taking another of the leaders into camp.

In the first game of tonight's program, Forest Lawn, which last week put up a terrific battle against the Christians, will collide with the First Reformed team, neither having any chance to gain a top post but both anxious to climb a notch in the standings. Reformed has won one and dropped three while Forest Lawn has won two and lost the same number for a 50-50 average. The game tonight should be hard-fought regardless of former records.

The sandwich game will match St. Mary's and United Brethren in a game which should see the Irish come out on the top end of the score. The United Brethren five has been experiencing a disastrous season and hardly appears to have the power to stop the Irish although the Catholic team has had only an in and out season to date this year, winning two and losing three.

NEVERS QUIT

Through With Football, Former Stanford Grid Star Says.

By The Associated Press. SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 26.—Ernie Nevers, former Stanford university football back, described by Coach Glenn Warner as "the greatest player I ever coached or saw," is definitely out of the playing end of football, quitting while "still in one piece."

Nevers has been a professional since 1926. He played his final game here Sunday and carried out of it a broken wrist, incurred in the last play.

His plans are indefinite, but he hopes to become a coach. He will confer with university of Nevada officials in the near future. He said, however, he would prefer to be an assistant coach at Stanford.

Leipsic Quint Beats Y-Indus Combine 39-30

Displaying one of the poorest brands of basketball of any game so far this season, the Shovel Y-Indus court aggregation was handed a 39-30 beating last night by the Leipsic Merchants in a game played on the Leipsic floor.

With the exception of the final period of play the Y-Indus five did not play in anything like its usual style. The Y-Indus work was ragged and the shooting was the most inaccurate of the year.

The result of the games even the two games series between the two teams, the Y-Indus having won a previous clash on the Shovel court by a wide margin.

Leipsic jumped into the lead in the first period of the game and proceeded to play rings around the Marion aggregation for three full quarters. The score at the end of the first period was 15-2 and at the half the count stood 17-7. By the end of the third period the count had been run to 32-13 for Leipsic.

In the fourth quarter the Y-Indus attack commenced functioning and Leipsic was forced to take the defensive for the first time in the game. Marion dumped in baskets from all corners of the court but the lead was too great to overcome and the Y-Indus rally fell short by nine points.

Carol Caris, former Harding High star, declared ineligible only last week, played his first game under Y-Indus colors last night and turned in a good performance. His play was not as smooth as it will be after he has had more practice with the team but team officials are confident he will provide a lot of additional strength for the club. Caris gathered three points although he did not play nearly all of the game.

Vic Gillis was high scorer with 13 points practically all of them collected in the last period scoring spree.

But Cham, former member of the Y-Indus now playing with Leipsic contributed in no small way to the defeat of the Y-Indus.

AKRON NEGRO STOPS ITALIAN TO CAPTURE MIDDLEWEIGHT TITLE

"Gorilla" Jones Cops Crown Vacated by Abdication of Walker.

By Charles W. Dunkley. Associated Press Sport Writer. MILWAUKEE, Jan. 26.—William "Gorilla" Jones, long-armed 26-year old Negro of Akron, O., was recognized today by the national boxing association as middleweight champion of the world.

Jones won the title last night by defeating Oddone Piazza, sturdy youth of Milan, Italy, on a technical knockout in the sixth round. It was the championship bout of an elimination tournament conducted by the N. B. A. to determine a successor to Mickey Walker, who gave up the throne a year ago because he could no longer make the weight limit of 160 pounds.

The Negro, backed with five years of campaigning, outclassed, out-boxed, and out-fought his 22-year old opponent. After a slow start, he battered Piazza to pulp and had him on the verge of collapse, when the bout was stopped. Jones won every round, with the exception of the first. With the beginning of the third, he opened up a vicious assault that terminated when Piazza, reeling, sagged into the ropes, hopelessly beaten. Jones is the seventeenth holder of the title. Since the class was recognized in 1887, the division has produced 16 champions, among them Walker, Stanley Ketchel, Tommy Ryan, Billy Papke, Mike O'Dowd, Bob Fitzsimmons and Jack Dempsey, the non-pariel.

REISLIT AGAIN ON TOP IN CUE MATCH

By The Associated Press. CHICAGO, Jan. 26.—The crazy quilt of standings in the world's three-cushioned billiard tournament showed another new patch today as Otto Reislit of Philadelphia commanded the field.

He rose to the top yesterday mostly through the brilliant 50-48 victory of Jay Bozeman, young Californian over the hitherto unbeaten Augie Kleckhefer of Chicago. As a result, Kleckhefer dropped into a tie for second place with Arthur Thurnbull of Chicago, defending champion, with three games won and one defeat. Reislit beat Allen Hall, one of the early favorites, 50 to 46 in 50 innings, to claim four victories against one defeat.

Take Your Choice Max—It's Either Laugh or Cry

BY HERBERT W. BARKER. Associated Press Sports Writer. NEW YORK, Jan. 26.—Max's inability to adapt himself to Rogers Carcy, manager of the Brooklyn Dodgers can look at the 1930 National league batting averages and laugh; or he can glance at the 1931 figures and cry.

With the purchase of Lewin Robert (Hack) Wilson from the St. Louis Cardinals, Carcy can point to an outfield roster—Wilson, Herman, O'Doul and Frederick which hit for a collective 366 in 1930, and then fell off last year to a meager 297.

Some part of that drop can be blamed on the deadened National league ball and to the new sacrifice rule.

The more optimistic Brooklyn fans will be inclined to believe the 1930 averages more truly represent the collective batting power of this "big four" than do those for 1931.

They may be right. Wilson's 261 average was due as much to his

BRONX CHEERS SPLIT THE OZONE AS DAVIS TAKES MAT BATTLE

"Honor" Guard Escorts Turk from Ring After Wild Wrestling Fray.

The guy who first called him the "Terrible Turk" knew his alphabet. Terrible, though, is putting it rather mild.

Sullaman Bey paid a visit to Marion wrestling fans last night at the Steam Shovel gym and made such a hit that he was given an "honor" guard of three local patrolmen to be certain he reached his hotel in good shape.

More than 1,500 fans hooted and booed the grand old man from Turkey who got a little too rough with Carl Davis, the coming Columbus grappler. Davis won the bout—it could hardly be called a match—when Bey was disqualified on the third fall. The bout lasted 27 minutes.

The feature attraction of the card was the appearance of Paddy Mack, the up and coming Nebraska youngster, who won the referee's decision over Fred Moran of point east. Mack, suffering from a cracked rib, was unable to put up the wrestling match of which he is capable but he was too fast and clever for the sailor boy.

Mack won the first fall when Moran was disqualified for unnecessary roughness after 39 minutes of hard fighting. Moran put Mack into submission to take the second fall in 45 seconds. The bout went the full 45-minute route with Mack concentrating on punishing the sailor.

Dick Lever and Pete Dando put on a burlesque in the preliminary.

Mr. and Mrs. John Dalrymple of Little Rock, Ark., saw their son, Jerry, captain of the Tulane football team, play in the Rose Bowl at Pasadena, Calif., for the first time.

Best Remedy is Made At Home

To half pint of water add one ounce bay rum, a small box of Barbo Compound and one-fourth ounce of glycerine. Any druggist can put this up for you. Apply to the hair twice a week until the desired shade is obtained. It imparts color to streaked, faded or gray hair and makes it soft and glossy. Barbo will not color the scalp, is not sticky or greasy and does not rub off.

LOVER'S LANE

At 14 Lola was pounding the ivories in an Iowa chin-ema house. Then came the "breaks"—and her weekly Good News jumped from $45 to $450. Ouch! She's a racketeer... formerly women's tennis champion of the Southwest. Her last picture, "EX-BAD BOY," was universally acclaimed. Lola Lane has smoked LUCKIES for two years... Her signed statement has no persuasive strings attached to it. And so we have good reason to say, "Much obliged, Lola."

"I know my LUCKIES—my throat told me the first time I smoked one how kind they are. And it's been LUCKIES ever since. LUCKIES are the only cigarettes I can smoke before singing that do not give me a sore throat. Your improved Cellophane wrapper is great, too. That easy opening tab is a stroke of genius."
